GENERAL ARBITRATION AND SURVEY RULES.

(As approved in 1910.)

Whereas it is desirable to receive references from, to arbitrate between, or to hold surveys for parties willing to abide by the judgment and decision of the Chamber of Commerce, it has been decided by the Committee of the Chamber, and the decision has been approved and made operative by a General meeting of the Members, that the subjoined shall be the Rules to be observed and followed in all cases of disputes when the assistance of the Chamber shall be invoked, except such as relate to Piece-goods and Yarns which have been separately provided for.

1. For the purpose of giving effect to the above, the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce shall either appoint such Arbitrator, or Arbitrator Surveyors or Surveyors, as they shall think fit, or appoint a Sub-Committee of three persons, one of whom at least shall be a Member of the Committee of the Chamber, to consider and decide the reference. If two Arbitrators or Surveyors are appointed and disagree, the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce shall appoint an Umpire whose decision shall be final.

2. The question to be referred to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce under these Rules shall be such as relate to mercantile transactions generally, excluding those connected with Piece-goods and Yarns, as noted in the preamble.

3. In case of application to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce for a decision in any dispute, the Committee shall select gentlemen to deal with and decide the reference.

4. Every application shall state that the parties concerned will accept and abide by the decision of the Chamber.

5. When a gentleman who may be appointed an Arbitrator or Surveyor, is directly or indirectly interested in any matter referred to him by the Chamber, he shall notify his inability to act, and in such case a fresh appointment shall be made forthwith.

6. In case of Arbitration, the Arbitrator shall, through the Secretary, appoint a time for the hearing of the reference and within seven days of notice in that behalf, the parties shall sign and submit to the Secretary a joint written statement or separate written statements in the form annexed hereto, or as near thereto, as circumstances will permit.

If separate statements are put in, at its discretion, cause a copy of each statement, with or without accompanying enclosures or extracts therefrom, to be submitted to the opposing party for information and remark, if desired, before being placed before the Arbitrator.

7. The decision of the Umpire shall be the decision of the Arbitration or Survey; such decision need not necessarily coincide with the opinion of either of the Arbitrators or Surveyors.

8. All decisions by Arbitrators, or Surveyors, under these Rules, shall be submitted in writing to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which shall cause the same to be communicated to the parties concerned.

Each decision, so far as may be possible, shall be supported by a statement of the reasons upon which it is based.

9. Arbitrators or Surveyors shall have the right to call for such evidence as they may deem necessary, but shall not have the right to take the opinion or assistance of Attorneys or Counsel.

10. When a matter shall have been referred to a Sub-Committee, the decision of the majority of such Sub-Committee shall be final.

Such Sub-Committee shall, for the purpose of the reference made to it, be deemed to represent the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and to exercise, for such purpose only, the full authority of such Committee.

11. All decisions of Sub-Committees shall be in writing, shall, so far as may be possible, recapitulate the reasons on which they are founded, shall be signed by the Chairman of such Sub-Committee, and shall, under the direction of the Sub-Committee, be communicated to the parties by the Secretary to the Chamber of Commerce, who, under those Rules, shall act as Secretary to all Sub-Committees.

12. Sub-Committees shall have the right to take such evidence as they may deem necessary, and shall also have power to call for the opinion or assistance of Attorneys or Counsel, provided that the disputants have previously agreed to this course being followed, and have further agreed to bear the expense thereof.

13. Before any application for Arbitration or Survey shall be entertained, both parties shall make such deposit with the Secretary as may be directed by the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce shall fix the fees for each Arbitration or Survey.

14. The Arbitrators or Surveyors shall state in their Report by whom and in what proportion, if any, the fees and expenses shall be paid. Deposits not affected by this Rule will be returned.

15. In cases where either of the parties to the reference is a Member of the Chamber of Commerce, the fees payable shall be double those payable by Members of the Chamber, and such enhanced fees shall be divided equally between the Arbitrators, Surveyors, or Umpire, and the Chamber of Commerce.

16. A record of all Arbitrations and Surveys and all decisions by Sub-Committees shall be kept at the office of the Chamber of Commerce.

17. Arbitrators, Surveyors and Sub-Committees shall, at all times before giving their decision, be at liberty to take the opinion of the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce on any point or points which may arise.

RULES FOR ARBITRATIONS AND SURVEYS ON PIECE-GOODS AND YARNS.

(As revised in August 1910)

Whereas it has been represented to the Madras Chamber of Commerce (hereinafter called "the Chamber") that it is desirable to give Arbitration Awards and Survey Reports on piece-goods and yarns an official character, the following Rules have been passed by the Chamber for the attainment of that end:—

Rule I.—Certain gentlemen, who have been nominated and unanimously elected by an annual ballot held in January by the Committee of the Chamber shall be appointed Arbitrators or Surveyors to the Chamber, but the Chamber reserves the right of cancelling the first and all future appointments by a majority of votes of the Committee of the Chamber by ballot.

Arbitrations

Rule II.—In every case where a dispute has arisen in relation to a contract which provides for a decision thereon by the Chamber or in relation to a contract in respect of which both parties thereto shall have subsequently agreed in writing to submit to such a decision, either party to such a contract may apply to the Secretary of the Chamber for the appointment of Arbitrators to adjudicate the dispute.

On receipt of such application, two Arbitrators shall be appointed in accordance with the following provisions.

Rule III.—The Imports Sub-Committee shall select the Arbitrators from the authorised list, and if the Arbitrators are unable to come to an unanimous decision, the Imports Sub-Committee shall select an Umpire either from the authorised list or otherwise provided that no Arbitrator or Umpire shall be selected or shall adjudicate on a matter in which he or his employers are interested, and not more than one person from the same firm shall be appointed an Arbitrator or Umpire. If any Arbitrator or Umpire declines or fails to act or if he dies or becomes incapable of acting, the Imports Sub-Committee may appoint a new Arbitrator or Umpire in his stead in like manner.

Rule IV.—The names of the Arbitrators or the Umpire shall not be made known to any person whatever except as provided in Rules IX and XXI, but the Secretary's record of the Arbitrations shall be available for inspection by the Imports Sub-Committee and by the Chairman of the Chamber or in his absence from Madras by the Vice-Chairman.

Rule V.—The approved list of Arbitrators under these Rules shall be circulated annually, or whenever asked for, to all Members of the Chamber, and shall be supplied to any party applying for the same.

Rule VI.—Before any Arbitration shall be entertained, a sum of Rs. 16 for each Arbitrator, Rs. 16 for an Umpire, and Rs. 16 for the Chamber for each contract in dispute and a sum of Rs. 5 to cover the stamp on the award under the Indian Stamp Act shall be paid to the Secretary. Fees not expended will be returned to the depositor.

In cases where neither of the parties to the application is a Member of the Chamber, an additional fee of Rs. 25 shall be paid to the Secretary for the Chamber.

Rule VII.—The Arbitrators shall, through the Secretary, appoint a time for the hearing of the reference and within seven days of notice in that behalf the parties shall sign and submit to the Secretary a joint written statement or separate written statements in the form annexed hereto, or as near thereto, as circumstances will permit.

If separate statements are put in, the Imports Sub-Committee may, at its discretion, cause a copy of each statement, with or without accompanying enclosures or extracts therefrom, to be submitted to the opposing party for information, and remark if desired, before being placed before the Arbitrator or Arbitrators.

Rule VIII.—At the time appointed for the reference, the parties shall have ready at the rooms of the Chamber, or elsewhere as directed by the Secretary, the sale samples duly attested, and if required, sample pieces or complete bales. Samples or bales so sent will be at sender's risk and must be accompanied by a person in charge and by a cooper to open the packages.

Rule IX.—The Arbitrators or the Umpire shall have general authority to require from either of the parties such further written or verbal statements and explanations and other information, evidence and materials as they or he may deem expedient for determining the matter in difference but shall not have the right to take the opinion or engage the assistance of Counsel, Attorneys or Vakils.

Rule X.—The Arbitrators or the Umpire shall proceed with the reference in the absence of any party who shall, after due notice, refuse or neglect to attend, or who shall have refused or neglected to sign and submit the written statement referred to in Rule VII without having previously satisfied the Arbitrators or Umpire that reasonable and sufficient excuse exists for such neglect or refusal.

Rule XI.—The Arbitrators or the Umpire in dealing with the reference shall have power to cancel the contract or direct the performance of the contract subject to an allowance, or grant such other relief as they or he may think fit, and shall direct by which party the costs of the Arbitration shall be paid, and shall, as far as possible, support them or his award by a statement of the reasons upon which the same may be founded.

Rule XII.—The insertion of a clause is recommended in all contracts made with dealers to the effect that, in the event of any dispute, the parties to the contract agree to abide by the decision of the Arbitrators or Umpire appointed by the Imports Sub-Committee of the Chamber under and in terms of its Rules for Arbitrations and Surveys as revised in 1909.

Rule XIII.—Neither party shall bring or prosecute any suit or proceeding whatever against the Arbitrators or Umpire for, or in respect of the matters in dispute or any of them nor any suit or proceeding, save for the enforcement of the award against the other party.

Rule XIV.—The provisions of the Indian Arbitration Act and of the first Schedule thereto shall, in so far as the same are not inconsistent with these Rules, apply to all references hereunder, provided always that in the third provision to the said first Schedule for the words "three months" shall be substituted the words "fourteen days" and in the fifth provision for the words "one month" shall be substituted the words "one week."

Surveys

Rule XV.—Any person may apply to the Secretary of the Chamber for a Survey, and if the Imports Sub-Committee be of opinion that the application is one which should be entertained by the Chamber, it shall, subject to the proviso to Rule III, appoint a Surveyor or Surveyors from the authorised list. In the event of no special number of Surveyors being asked for, only one shall be appointed.

Rule XVI.—The applicant for a Survey shall in his application clearly state the purpose for which the Survey is required.

Rule XVII.—Before any Survey shall be entertained, the applicant if a Member of the Chamber, shall pay to the Secretary a fee of Rs. 10 for each Surveyor and Rs. 10 for the Chamber, and if not a Member, an additional fee of Rs. 5 for the Chamber.

General.

Rule XVIII.—All decisions shall be submitted in writing to the Secretary, who shall then, without disclosing the names of the Arbitrators, Umpire or Surveyors, communicate the result to the party or parties concerned.

Rule XIX.—A record of all Arbitrations and Surveys shall be kept in the office of the Chamber.

Rule XX.—The parties to an Arbitration, or either of them, or if either of them should be dead, their respective personal representative requiring the same, or the applicant for a Survey, shall, on application, be entitled to receive from the Secretary of the Chamber a certified copy of the Award of Survey Report under his signature. For each copy of such certificate, a fee of Rs. 3-6 shall be payable to the Chamber.

Rule XXI.—Should parties to an Arbitration or the applicant for a Survey require the attendance of Arbitrators, Umpire or Surveyors in a suit or other legal proceeding in which an Award or Survey Report of the Chamber is to be produced in evidence, the Secretary of the Chamber is authorised to give the names of such Arbitrators, Umpire or Surveyors upon receipt of a requisition by either party, stating that it is for that purpose only that the information is desired.

RULE.

The articles mentioned in the margin are to be measured before shipment, at the Press Godown or on the Beach, at the option of the shipper, and the measurement is to be entered on the face of the Bill of Lading. In measuring, the calipers are to take in the rope or iron hoop, on the one side of the bale, and leave it out on the other. Half inches are to be given and taken alternately. Ten bales per cent, as a maximum, are to be measured, a moiety to be chosen by the shipper and moiety by the ship, and, in the event of any dispute arising, the bales are to be measured by a Surveyor to be appointed by the Chamber of Commerce. The Surveyor's decision to be final, and his fee to be Five Rupees, one half to be borne by each party. All other Goods to be measured at the Port of Discharge.

SUNDAYS AND CHARTER-PARTY HOLIDAYS IN RELATION TO MERCANTILE CONTRACTS.

The following Ruling was adopted at a General Meeting of the Madras Chamber of Commerce held on the 29th April 1902:—

Goods falling due for delivery on a Sunday, or on a Charter-Party and Shipping Holiday, must be delivered on the day previous to the Sunday or the Charter-Party and Shipping Holiday, as the case may be.

DATE OF SHIPMENT.

The Chamber considered the question of what evidence should be accepted as to date of shipment, and at the General Meeting held on the 27th June, 1911, it was resolved that the following Clause—which had been recommended by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce for adoption by the Bombay Native Piece-goods Merchants Association—should be recommended to members of this Chamber for incorporation in their contracts:—

Either Bill of Lading date, or the date of Manchester Ship Canal Co's Certificate, (in the case of Goods to be shipped from any Port other than Manchester), the date of Dock, Railway or Shipowners' Certificate of receipt for shipment, shall be conclusive evidence as to the date of shipment.

On landing and re-shipping Goods from any Vessel in distress, or on landing and selling by auction damaged Goods from any such Vessel, and acting as Agent for the Master on behalf of all concerned, on the declared value of all such Goods as may be re-shipped, and on the net proceeds of all such Goods as may be publicly sold—Two and a Half

That brokerage at the rate of $\frac{1}{4}$ (half) per cent be accepted charge on all freight.

ADDITIONS ON 1st JANUARY 1877.

When the freight is payable in sterling the Commission shall be calculated on the sterling amount at the following rates for Bank Bill, viz., at the rate for 6 months' sight.

Bank Bills, when the freight is by Sailing Ships, and at the rate for three months' sight, Bank Bills, when by Steamer.

On Ships having the Port in ballast, which have been consigned inward, upon the English net registered tonnage, 6 annas per ton.

On Steamers leaving the Port in ballast, which have been consigned inward upon the English net registered tonnage, 8 annas per ton.

On Ships leaving the Port in ballast, which have been consigned inward and outward upon the English net registered tonnage, 12 annas per ton.

On Steamers leaving the Port in ballast, which have been consigned inward and outward, upon the English net registered tonnage, lic. 1 per ton.

When the amount on which Commission is payable is stated in Rupees, the Commission shall be calculated in that currency, and when in sterling, at the rate provided for under the Rule which fixes the rate 'on procuring freight.'

With respect to a Steamer or Sailing Vessel partially discharged, which does not return to this Port for cargo on her homeward voyage, the rate shall be 8 annas a ton on every ton discharged, provided the total amount exceeds Rs. 100, failing which Rs. 100 shall be charged.

The conversion into Indian currency of sterling freight payable in Madras shall, unless otherwise stipulated, be made at the rate for Bank Bills on London payable on demand; and the rate ruling at the close of a Mail shall be the rate applicable to such purpose during the subsequent week.

ADDITION ON THE 1ST JANUARY 1881

Brokerage on a forward contract shall be payable on the completion of the transaction.

NON-WEATHER WORKING LAY DAYS IN MADRAS.

The following Rule defining non weather working lay days in Madras was adopted at the General Monthly Meeting of the Madras Chamber of Commerce held on the 26th July 1910 —

"During inclement weather, the Committee of the Madras Chamber of Commerce, in consultation with the Port Officer will decide as to what may or may not be considered a weather-working day.

N.B. — The procedure under this Rule is to be as follows:—

When the parties interested cannot agree as to whether a day is a weather-working day or not, the matter shall be represented on the same day to the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and if the Committee and the Port Officer agree that, by reason of inclement weather, the day should be declared a non-weather working day, the Committee shall forthwith declare it to be so, and place it on record for further reference if necessary."

EXTRACT FROM MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

There shall be two classes of members, permanent and honorary.

Merchants, bankers, shipowners, traders, men, representatives of commercial, railway, and insurance companies, brokers, persons and firms engaged in commerce or trade, agriculture, mining, manufacture, and joint-stock companies or other corporations, and associations for any purpose or object connected with commerce or trade, agriculture, mining, manufacture, or persons engaged in or connected with science, may be elected as permanent members of the Chamber.

Any firm, joint-stock company or other corporation eligible for election as a permanent member may become a permanent member in their conventional or corporate name.

Subject to the provisions and restrictions contained in these Articles, the rights and privileges of membership may, in the case of a firm elected in their conventional name as a member, be exercised by any partner in such firm or by any person authorised by power of attorney, or letter of procuration or letter of authority to sign the name of the firm or to sign such name per procuration, and may, in the case of a joint-stock company or other corporation elected a member in its corporate name, be exercised by any responsible officer of such company or corporation.

A candidate for election as a permanent member, whether an individual, a firm or a joint stock company or other corporation, shall be proposed by one and seconded by another permanent member, and may be elected by the Committee.

A firm shall not cease to be a member by reason only of a change in the constitution of the firm, occasioned by the admission, retirement or death of a partner, provided the business of the firm is continued in the conventional name in which such firm was elected a member.

A firm, joint-stock company, or other corporation shall cease to be a member upon any change being made in the conventional or corporate name of the firm, company or corporation.

Any permanent member may withdraw from the Chamber by giving two calendar months' notice in writing to the Secretary of his intention so to do and, upon the expiration of the notice, such member shall cease to be a member.

The subscription to the funds of the Chamber of permanent members carrying on business in Madras shall be Rs. 21 per annum, payable half-yearly in advance and that of those permanent members carrying on business elsewhere than in Madras, shall be Rs. 10 per annum, payable in advance. The entrance fee of permanent members shall be Rs. 12 payable with the proposal for their admission.

Honorary members shall not be required to subscribe to the funds of the Chamber.

A member whose subscription shall be three months in arrears, and who has not paid such arrears within one month after written notice calling for such payment, shall not be eligible either to vote or take part at any meeting of the Committee or General Meeting, or nominate any one for transacting business or to elect a member or to propose or second the nomination of anyone to be a member of the Chamber.

Any member, who does not pay his subscription for 6 months after the same has fallen due, shall cease to be a member of the Chamber and the name of such defaulting member shall be removed by the Committee from the list of members.

If it shall appear to the Committee that any member has not conformed to these Articles or to the bye-laws or regulation of the Chamber, or that any member has been guilty of any conduct likely to reflect detrimentally on the Chamber, it shall be competent to the Committee to request such member to resign, and, if the member so requested shall not resign within two weeks after such request, the Committee shall thereupon convene a Special General Meeting, and, if at such meeting a majority of two-thirds of the members present and voting, vote for the expulsion of the member so offending, such member shall thereupon cease to be a member.

Any person, firm or joint-stock company or other corporation, who shall resign or be expelled under Article 18, shall be eligible for re-election after the expiry of one year from the date of resignation or expulsion, provided not less than three members, in addition to the proposer and seconder, support the proposal for re-election.

Any member, who shall for any reason cease to be a member, shall nevertheless remain liable for and shall pay to the Chamber all monies which, at the time such member ceased to be a member, may be due from such member to the Chamber.

Officials and others indirectly connected with the trade, commerce or manufactures in the Madras Presidency, or who may have rendered distinguished service to the interests represented by the Chamber, may be elected honorary members by the Committee, without any ballot, upon the proposal of any two permanent members of the Chamber.

MEMORIAL STATUES AND MONUMENTS IN THE CITY OF MADRAS

Statue of Queen Victoria.

Chepauk Park, South of the Senate House, Door No. 1, Seventh Division.

Statue of the Queen-Empress in bronze, set on a smoothly-dressed stone pedestal with a basement of Sholinghur stone; hood of zinc sheeting supported by ornamental cast-iron brackets and columns.

INSCRIPTION.

On South side.—Victoria Queen-Empress of India. This statue is erected in token of his loyalty, respect and admiration of Her Majesty's many virtues by Her faithful subject Rajah Goday Narayanan Gujptee Rao of Sree Goday family, Visagapatam.

East side—Unveiled by the Rt. Hon'ble The Lord Cunnemara, Governor of Fort St. George, June 20th, 1887.

West side.—Presented to the City of Madras in commemoration of Her Majesty's Jubilee

Bust of Lord Hobart.

South-west of the Senate Hall, Chepauk Park, Seventh Division.

Bust of Lord Hobart in white marble set on an off-set pedestal of black stone squared and polished.

INSCRIPTION.

Inscription in Hindustanee, Tamil and English. Vere Henry Lord Hobart, Governor of Madras from A.D. 1872 to 1875, Defender of the Poor.

The following were Lord Hobart's last words to the Presidency College, on April 19th, 1875 :—

" Education brings with it a sense—a delighting and ennobling sense—of power and freedom, but brings with it also a sense of the great duty of political subordination and enlightened liberality of thought, which can appreciate the value, understand the difficulties, and make allowance for the defects of a firm and liberal administration. This invitation of the West to the East, this call to the intellectual association will prove (as I firmly believe) to have been the knell of every painful feeling that ever marred or impeded their intercourse.

Misunderstanding, which is another name for ignorance, lies at the root of every kind and degree of national antipathy. Religious animosity, which is another name for unreasoning folly, cannot breathe in the pure atmosphere of mental advancement. The prejudice which could resist both time and civilization melts away before the sympathy of thought. Men born at the mere accident of race or faith can never affect either the motive or the obligation of mutual friendliness and respect, and that, whether born in England or in India, and whatever may be the creeds and dogmas which have kept them so long and so lamentably asunder, their duty and interest for the present and their hope for the future is in reality the same "

On the 27th of April, eight days later, Protestant Catholics, Roman Catholics, Mussulmans and Hindus knelt in united prayer round their Governor, while his spirit passed away. As a memorial of Lord Hobart's efforts to diminish taxation and establish a system of elementary education throughout the Presidency of Madras, this bust is presented by his widow Mary Catherine Hobart.

HISTORIC BUILDINGS IN SOUTH INDIA.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

G.O., No. 180, Public, dated 13th February 1904.

READ—again the following papers —

G.O. Nos. 170, 171, Public, dated 20th February 1902.

ABSTRACT.—Directing that the Government of India be addressed on the subject of a proposal to signalise buildings of historical interest by memorial tablets.

G.O. Nos. 1012, 1013, Public, dated 14th November 1903.

ABSTRACT.—Stating that the work of commemorating certain ancient buildings by placing on them memorial medallions or tablets will now be undertaken by the Public Works Department, and directing the despatch of a letter to the Government of India on the subject.

READ—also the following paper —

Resolution of the Government of India, Home Department (Public), dated Calcutta, 29th January 1904, No. 234-42.

About three years ago the Government of India were led to consider the methods that might most advantageously be adopted for the preservation of historical relics and of interesting sites or buildings in India, and for the perpetuation of the surviving records of a past that is every day tending to disappear more and more from the public recollection. Among the objects that commended themselves to their notice from this point of view was the commemoration of the houses or dwellings which are notable for their historical associations, or in which distinguished public men, whether European or Indian, have resided at different portions of their careers. A good many of these are still standing, and are pointed out with certainty to the student or traveller. The antecedents and identity of others are already becoming matters of uncertainty; and authentic history is beginning to pass, in some cases into tradition, in others into legend. It seemed desirable, before this process had attained further dimensions, to arrest and crystallise, as far as possible, the definite knowledge that is still forthcoming of the former residences of men who have left an enduring mark upon the civil and military administration or upon the moral and intellectual development of India.

2. In England the Society of Arts has for some time past interested itself in a similar undertaking, by placing upon the facade of houses in London and elsewhere a circular terracotta medallion with a simple inscription on its face, recording the fact that this or that famous personage lived there in such and such a year or years. In this way, a number of valuable historical memories have been revived or recovered; and a walk through some of the older London streets has been rendered not only interesting but instructive.

3. Accordingly, after careful consultation with the local Governments concerned, the Government of India have determined to adopt a similar plan in this country. The buildings which they have decided to commemorate for historical reasons or as having been the residences of famous men are shown in the statements annexed to this resolution which indicate the grounds for the decision in each case. The number is necessarily limited, and great care has been exercised in the selection of those buildings whose associations are mainly personal, so as to prevent that which should be an honour to the few from becoming the prerogative of the many. Some of these houses are the property of Government, and no difficulty arises in the placing of a memorial medallion upon them. Others belong to private persons and the permission of the owner has been sought for its erection. It is understood that in all cases this has been readily given. It has not been found in England that any serious objection has been entertained by individual proprietors to the fulfilment of what is really a public trust : and the Government of India have not been disappointed in their expectation that the standard of public spirit in India would be found to be in no way lower than in Great Britain. The Governor-General in Council trusts that the measures now adopted will have the effect of preserving those personal and local associations which in India are peculiarly liable to be forgotten, and that a direct stimulus will thus be given to the more intimate study of the history of the past. The example thus set may perhaps admit of being followed in places where distinguished Indian statesmen have rendered conspicuous service to Native States.

BURMA DIRECTORY

BURMA DIRECTORY

BURMA

The name given to the country stretching along the western edge of that portion of the continent of Asia which lies between the Bay of Bengal and the China sea is known generally as Indo-China. It is situated between latitude $9^{\circ} 58'$ and latitude 28°N and between $92^{\circ} 11'$ and $101^{\circ} 9' \text{E}$ longitude, covering a superficial estimated area of 261,839 square miles, of which 164,411 are under direct British administration, while 66,428 belong to dependent Native States and 31,000 are unadministrated territory. Due north the boundary between Burma, Tibet and China has not been precisely determined. Assam, Manipur, the Lushai Hills, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts hem it in on the north-west, and its western border is the Bay of Bengal. Its north-eastern and eastern frontiers march with the Chinese province of Yunnan, the Chinese Shan and the Lao states, the French possessions in Indo-China, and the kingdom of Siam, and on the south it is bounded by that portion of Siam which forms part of the Malay Peninsula. It thus constitutes the easternmost rampart of the Indian Empire.

The origin of the word 'Burma' is by no means certain. It is argued, on the one hand, that the name came from India in the shape of 'Brahma'; on the other, that it is a corruption of the Chinese name for the Burmese race. The former was the view held by Sir Arthur Phayre; and, when it is borne in mind that in the works of European writers of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the country is occasionally referred to as 'Burma,' there would certainly appear to be prima facie grounds for the theory. At no time, however, has Brahmanism found a footing in more than an insignificant portion of what is now Burma; and, on the whole, the weight of opinion appears to lean towards the second hypothesis, which was originated by the late Bishop Bigandet, the scholarly Vicar Apostolic of Southern Burma. 'Mien' is the Chinese for Burma, and the Burmese name for Burma was and is still written Myanma, though ordinarily pronounced Bama. The Shans called Burma the country of the Mans, the term 'Man' having been originally applied by the Chinese to a group of tribes including the Lolo and the Mantzu, who are found in considerable numbers in the Province of Ssuch'wan. The Manipuries on the north-west frontier of the Province call the Burmans 'Maran'. Burmans in Kachin and Maru are styled 'Myeng' and among the Palaungs, a Mon-Anam pre-Burman hill tribe inhabit the north of the Shan States, who are absolutely free from the suspicion of exposure to Hindu influences. Burma is known as 'Bran.' In short, internal evidence all points to a Mongolian derivation.

HARBOURS—

The province boasts of few good natural harbours. With three exceptions (Akyab, Kyaukpyu and Mergui) the principal ports are situated on tidal rivers at some little distance from the sea, and none of the harbours on the sea-face is exceptionally commodious or easy of approach.

CLIMATE—

Burma has long enjoyed an unenviable notoriety in the matter of climate, but is slowly outgrowing its reputation as an irredeemably pestilential region. Malarial fevers are very prevalent in certain localities, and the province still possesses towns, such as Kyaukpyu and Kengtung, which are deplorably unhealthy; but jungle-clearing and conservancy have worked wonders in the past few years in reducing the detail of these penal settlements and now, whatever may be said of the jungle areas, the majority of places inhabited by Europeans are as salubrious as average stations in the east. For the greater part of the year Lower Burma is a most relaxing place of sojourn, but it is by no means as deadly as it is often supposed to be; and the dry zone of Upper Burma is, except for a few weeks in the spring and autumn,* neither overpoweringly hot nor remarkably unhealthy. Life in Burma is often, it is true, a burden to the enervated foreign resident, but his bodily discomfort has but little connection with his state of health, as gauged by the bills of mortality; for the close, steam days of the early monsoon are not so dangerous as the cooler, but more treacherous, periods that usher in the cold season, and March and April, two of the most burdensome months of the twelve in the dry districts, are nevertheless among the healthiest.

HISTORY—

Burmese history, as recorded by indigenous chroniclers, goes back to an exceedingly remote period and its earlier chapters deal with events that are for the most part obviously legendary, but of interest in so far as they afford a clue to the distribution over the country of the various races that claim Burma as their home. It is impossible to place a finger on to the precise point at which fact begins to emerge from fable. Our present knowledge of the people of the country enables us to dismiss as wholly fabulous the story that the first Princes of Burma came from Berar. It is clear, however, that the Burmans, in their progress down from their northern pre-historic home in Central Asia, first established themselves as a political entity in the country round the northern reaches of the Irrawaddy. Their earliest known capital was Tagaung, a town on the left bank of the river, in what is now the Ruby Mines District of Upper Burma. It may be necessary to accept with some reserve the statement, put forward by the early Burmese historians, that a Dynasty was founded here at the beginning of the 10th century B. C.; but that this settlement took place at a very early era is clearly indicated by the story of a branch which, after the foundation of Tagaung, spread westward, first into the Chindwin Valley and next into the vicinity of the Kaladan river in Northern Arakan. This migration can have been nothing more or less than the diversion to the western coast lines of the peoples who subsequently became the Arakanese and in all probability separated from the Burmans during the early centuries of the Christian Era. Subsequent movements of parties into the Shan states and down the Irrawaddy alluded to in these early annals point to a possible solution of the problems connected with the origin of the Taungthas and the Inthas, and presumably of other Tibeto-Burmese hill tribes now resident on the confines of the province. It was during this early legendary period that a section of the primitive Burmese community forsaking the main body, pressed southward and founded in the border land between the dry and wet zones of the country the Dynasty of the Pyus at Prome, which for many years was the centre of Burmese tradition.

The earliest English connection with Burma began in 1612 when the East India Company had agents and factories at Syriam "Near Rangoon," Prome and Ava. But the Portuguese had factories at Syriam and Martaban "opposite to Moulmein" as early as 1519, and though all Europeans were expelled from the country about 1650, agencies were again established at Syriam and Bassein before the close of the century and those remained with a short interruption till the annexation of Arakan and Tenasserim. A resident had been deputed to Rangoon in 1796, which town was built by King Alompra in 1755.

The total area of the province is 230,839 sq. miles with a population of 12,115,217 in 1911.

The principal seaports are Rangoon which is 960 miles due east of Madras, Moulmein, Bassein "in the Irrawady delta", Tavoy and Mergui on the Tennasserim Coast, and Sandoway, Kyaukpyu and Akyab on the West Coast of Arakan.

Rangoon is an important city, with the headquarters of Government, and is the terminus and headquarters of the Burma Railways.

THE HOLY TRINITY CATHEDRAL.

Pagoda Road.

Cathedral Chaplain.—Rev. W. H. Cowper Johnson

The foundation-stone of a Cathedral for the Diocese of Rangoon was laid by His Excellency the Viceroy on 24th February 1886, the Festival of S. Matthias. The site was a portion of the Diocesan School compound. It has been erected from plans made by Mr. Chisholm. It is built in brick and in modified early English style, with stone pillars and arches dividing the Transepts and Aisles from the Nave. The Chancel is surrounded by an ambulatory and has a conveniently placed organ loft on the north side. There is a Baptistry at the West of the Nave, and a Tower and Spire nearly 200 feet in height, over the South-West entrance Porch. The Apical east end is pierced by five single lights which are filled with very fine painted glass whilst the western wall has a Rose window 16 feet in diameter. The roofs of Transepts and Nave are open, revealing the magnificent wood of Burma, whilst the roof of the Chancel and Apse is groined in selected bricks. The Chapter house is not yet built; it is to be two-storied, octagonal in form with groining resting on a central pillar. The Chancel and Sanctuary are raised above the level of the Nave so that the Altar of carved marble stands 5 feet above that level. In 1908, Electric Lights and Fans were installed, and the following year saw the erection of a carved Choir Screen and Stalls in carved teak work. The North and South Transepts are fitted up as Chapels, the latter as a Memorial to the late Bishop Strachan. The Cathedral was consecrated on 25th January 1905. Cathedral Organist.—C. N.
